

Job Ad for the Facilities and WFM on the Go Coordinator for the Wolfville Farmers' Market

Are you passionate about agriculture, the local economy and community development? Have you excellent communication skills but can also manage logistics with care and efficiency. If so, the Wolfville Farmers' Market (WFM) is looking for someone to jump in with all their enthusiasm and skills to help us build a new food distribution model where customers purchase Wolfville Farmers' Market products on line and then have them delivered to their community. In this model smaller scale producers are valued, the local economy bolstered, a sense of community honoured and the consumer understood and offered the services they need for their full and vibrant lives.

If you want to be part of this and be the Facilities and WFM on the Go Coordinator at the Wolfville Farmers' Market then see our Job Ad here.

Please pay special attention to the listed grant requirements in the Job Ad as we cannot hire someone who doesn't meet all of these.
