

Farm Registration Program

Fact Sheet

What is the Farm Registration Program?

Farm Registration is a voluntary, annual program. Farms eligible to file a farm tax return with the Canada Revenue Agency may register.

Farm Registration provides for:

- Managed access to government programs by farm businesses;
- Collection of farm information to develop agricultural policy; and
- Stable funding of the Nova Scotia Federation of Agriculture

Who needs to register?

Farmers need to register to access government agricultural programs. Examples of programs that require a Farm Registration include Farm License Plates, Fuel Tax Exemption, Livestock Herd Health, and grant programs. Registered farms also receive a discount on some Nova Scotia Department of Agriculture laboratory analyses.

Who is eligible?

To register successfully, you must: 1) Complete the Farm Registration Application Form; 2) Provide proof of farming income (Statement of Farming Activities: T2042, T1273, or Schedule 125); and 3) Pay the required registration fee.

How do I apply?

For program information, contact the Registrar of Farms, NSDA at 902-893-6377, 1-866-844-4276 or 902-893-6510.

How much does registration cost?

Registration fees range from $175 to $975, depending on Gross Farm Commodity Income (see registration fee table).

Registration Fees
Gross Farm Income	Fee
$29,999 or less	$175.00
$30,000 - $99,999	$400.00
$100,000 - $499,999	$600.00
$500,000 - $999,999	$850.00
$1,000,000 or more	$975.00

What does my registration fee pay for?

Registration fees provide funding for the Nova Scotia Federation of Agriculture (NSFA). The NSFA undertakes a review of membership fees every five years to ensure fee revenue will sustain the Federation's activities. A review of the five-year budget forecast determined that an increase in fees was needed to meet the financial commitments that support the organization's mandate. The proposed fee schedule and increases were presented and approved by the Nova Scotia Federation of Agriculture membership at the Annual General Meeting held November 29-30, 2018.

Registrants must indicate in Section 6 of the Farm Registration form whether they wish to be a member of NSFA. If they choose not to be a member their contact information will not be provided to NSFA.

For further information on NSFA membership and benefits, please contact:

Or, visit their Website

Do I receive any documentation for registering, and how long does it take?

A wallet sized Farm Registration card is mailed to you as proof of registration approximately 7 business days from the date your application is received (provided all necessary information is submitted with the application).

Do I have to renew my registration?

Yes. Your registration is valid for 1 year, covering the period from April 1 of one year to March 31 of the next. Registration is renewable, and the Department will send you a renewal notice approximately 3 to 4 weeks before it expires.

What if I have changes to my business information?

Changes to your business name, address, partners, etc. should be reported to Service Nova Scotia at 902-424-5200 or 1-800-670-4357 toll free in Nova Scotia to be recorded on your file.

I purchased an existing farm that was previously registered. What do I do?

Since farm ownership has changed, you must submit a new application to register. A new Farm Registration card will be issued with your information.
